

Noah Rogers Biography

Born and raised in New Hampshire, Noah Rogers first moved to Juneau in 2014 for what was only supposed to be three-months during the summer season – a short period between graduating from Virginia Tech and starting his AmeriCorps service in the fall. However, he fell in love with the Alaskan tourism industry and after several summer seasons, moved permanently to Sitka in 2018. Noah previously worked for Alaskan Dream Cruises as Hotel Operations and Logistics and is currently Port Manger for Cruise Line Agencies of Alaska in Sitka. Noah and his wife appreciate the small-town atmosphere of the community and being close to his parents, who also live in Sitka.

